A great smile is healthier, more attractive, and boosts self-confidence.

And away we go.

Why clear aligners?

To correct malocclusion, a growing number of patients and doctors prefer clear aligners to traditional wires and brackets, due to advantages such as:

- Nearly-invisible appliances
- No dietary restrictions
- No obstructions to flossing or brushing
- Controlled single-tooth movement
- Remote monitoring options

It's no surprise that clear aligners are one of the fastest-growing sectors in orthodontics.

With a low barrier to entry and fast return on investment, clear aligners are an excellent way to expand your practice by offering treatment that patients actively seek.

Compared to traditional wires & brackets, clear aligners are:

COMFORTABLE

REMOVABLE

DISCREET

Smiles for all.

Clear aligners can be used to address a wide variety of oral problems, and because of their aesthetic appearance, patients are more likely to wear them.

Hey! We're ClearCorrect.

Nice to meet you.

You work hard to keep your practice running right and offering the services your patients need. We know, because we've been there. ClearCorrect™ was founded back in 2006 by a dentist who had over 400 patients that needed to finish their clear aligner treatment, but no one to make the aligners for them.

So Dr. Willis Pumphrey went the extra mile for his patients: he founded his own company to make aligners for them. One by one, other dentists signed up to try Dr. Pumphrey's solution, and ClearCorrect started to grow.

Today, ClearCorrect has served tens of thousands of dentists all over the world and has delivered literally millions of aligners to their patients. Through it all, we've made it our priority to listen to our providers, and to put their needs first. That's what's kept us in business for over 12 years, and that's how we know we'll always be here.

Four good reasons to choose ClearCorrect

MADE IN THE USA

ClearCorrect was born in the USA, and we continue to engineer our systems, processes, and protocols with care and pride at our Center of Excellence in Round Rock, Texas.

Proven to optimize retention.

ClearCorrect aligners feature a smooth, unscalloped trim line that extends past the gingival margin. Research shows that aligners trimmed with this technique are significantly more retentive than scalloped aligners, which can reduce the need for attachments. Fewer attachments means the aligners fit the teeth tighter, and that means better aesthetics, which means happier patients.

Freedom

to work the way you want to

When it comes to scanners, we don't play favorites.

We love intraoral scans, and we'll accept them from any major scanner on the market. They're fast and easy for us to process, which means you can get your cases started quicker while avoiding the messy impressions.

Every case includes a mobile-friendly 3D setup.

You'll receive an interactive 3D preview of the treatment, including predicted final result and progress at every step, including recommended procedures such as IPR and attachments. The setup is shareable to help with case acceptance, and there's no software to download. Best of all, you won't pay anything until you're happy with the treatment that's been planned.

Don't pay a thing until you're happy with your treatment setup.

Choice is sweet.

*ClearCorrect treatment: as much as you want,
as little as you need.*

With ClearCorrect, you can submit a case for free and see exactly how many steps are planned in our mobile-friendly 3D treatment setup. Then you can choose Flex, and pay per aligner, or choose Unlimited: one flat rate for five full years of aligners and retainers. Either way, for any number of steps, it's your choice.

Note: remove appliances before eating, smoking, or drinking anything other than cold water.

FLEX

Just what the doctor ordered

Get the exact amount of treatment you need—no more, no less—and only pay for what you use.

Flex is great for simple aesthetic corrections, single-arch treatment, and minor orthodontic relapses. Particularly, it works well for doctors who have experience with clear aligners and have a good feel for how they move teeth.

UNLIMITED

Worry-free for five full years

Pay one flat rate for as many aligners and retainers as you need for five full years, including revisions and replacements.

ClearCorrect's Unlimited option is ideal for comprehensive treatment, long term retention, and minimizing unexpected expenses. If you're a doctor who's not too familiar with how much treatment you need, Unlimited is always a safe bet.

Service that really stands out.

From day one, we built ClearCorrect on the power of personal, attentive support. It's our forte. Whether you call, chat, or email us, you'll talk to a real human and get your questions answered—fast.
