Chapter 1: Introduction

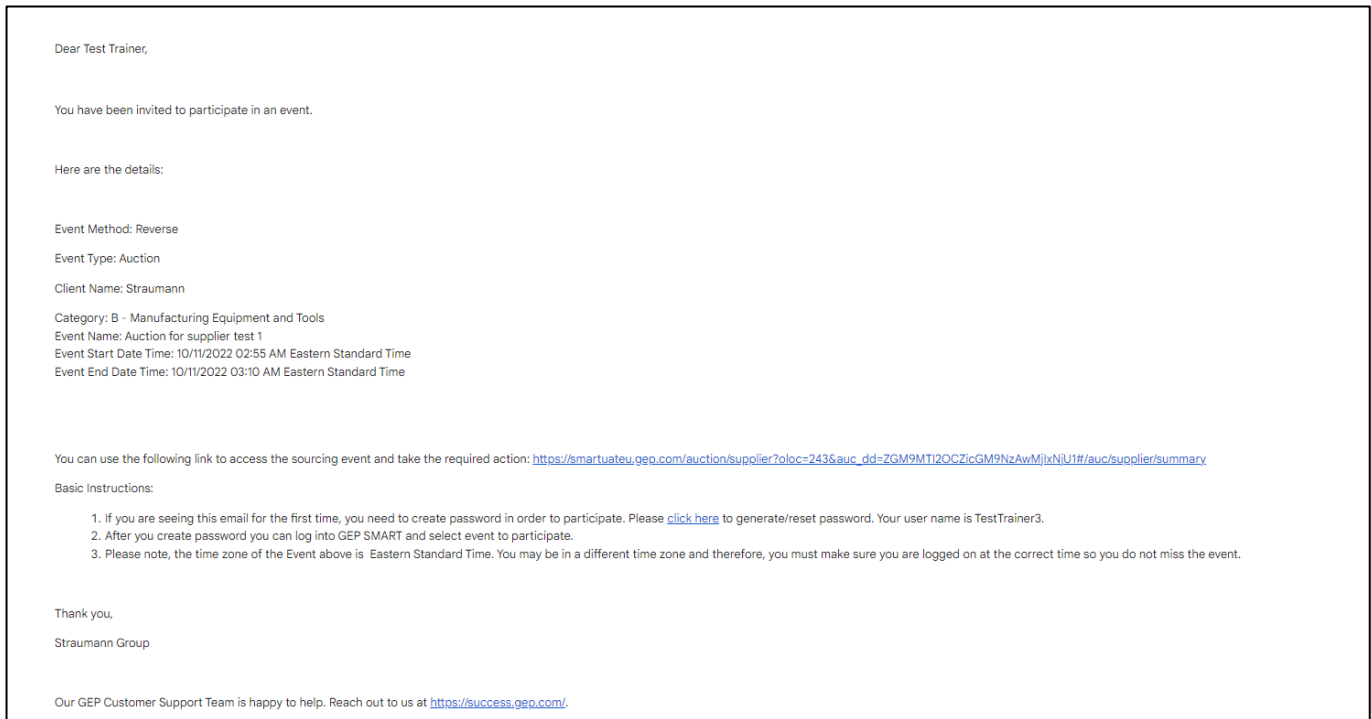

GEP SMART Auction enables you, as suppliers, to take part in auction events that are set up by buyers. The end-to-end communication between suppliers and the buyer helps simplify the process of an auction by maintaining discretion on the supplier bids and achieve the best results for both suppliers and buyers.

In other words, Auction is a simple, easy, and effective platform, which gives you the opportunity to work with and negotiate with the buyer organization. Auctions allow you to meet the buyer's requirements while also meeting your budget, in a real-time scenario.

The following guide will help you navigate through the application and make effective use of its various features and capabilities.

Chapter 2: Overview

Once the buyer organization has invited and has published the auction event, you get an invitation in the email. You can access the auction event by using the link provided in the email, as shown:

Alternatively, you can directly login to GEP SMART and access the event from the Tasks or Manage sections.

- Under Tasks, you can see auctions requiring your participation.
- Under Manage, you can see all auctions including the ones you have participated in.

2.1 Types of Auctions

Auctions are of four different types: Regular, Dutch, Japanese, and Sealed.

2.1.1 Regular Auction

Also known as an English auction. In this type of auction, you participate in a real time environment and continuously decrease/increase the bid based on real time competition feedback.

For more information on how to bid in a Regular auction, see Bidding in a Regular Auction.

2.1.2 Dutch Auction

A Dutch auction starts with a high or low price depending on reverse or forward method. For more information, see Forward and Reverse.

The Price goes on decrementing/incrementing at regular intervals, until you or one of the bidders accept the price. Whoever bids first/accepts the bid is awarded the auction.

Basically, you can place only one bid in a Dutch auction and the bidding for a Dutch auction comes to an end as soon as the winning bid is received. So, the basic concept of the auction is to not wait too long to bid, as another supplier might beat you to it.

For more information on how to bid in a Dutch auction, see Bidding in a Dutch Auction.

2.1.3 Japanese Auction

A Japanese auction starts with a high or low price depending on reverse or forward method. For more information, see Forward and Reverse.

The Price goes on decrementing/incrementing at regular intervals. You must accept the bid amount specified in each of incrementing/decrementing range to stay in the competition. Unlike the Dutch auction, a Japanese auction continues until there are no more participants left to bid.

For more information on how to bid in a Japanese auction, see Bidding in a Japanese Auction.

2.1.4 Sealed Auction

A Sealed auction is a type of auction in which you place only one bid, during the auction event. Unlike the other auction types in which you can continually place bids with each passing interval, in a sealed auction, there are no multiple interval bids.

The major feature of a sealed auction is that the bid placed by you is not visible to the other suppliers or even the buyer, until the event is complete.

For more information on how to bid in a Sealed auction, see Bidding in a Sealed Auction.

2.2 Event Method

Auction events can be conducted in either forward or reverse. These methods are dependent on the details and type of the auction you are invited in.

2.2.1 Reverse

In the reverse method, bidding starts with the highest possible price and the bid value decreases gradually. The winner of the auction event is the supplier having the lowest bid.

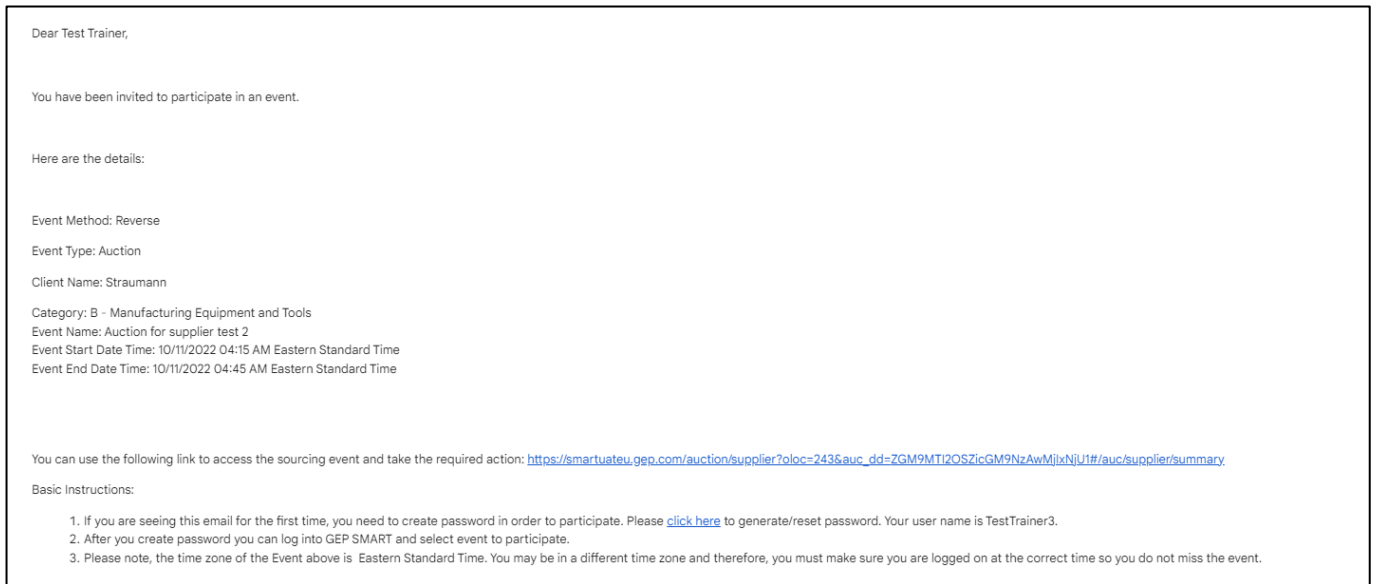

This is a descending-price auction, also known as a Procurement or Buy Offer. In this format, bids must be lower in price than the previous bids to win an auction. This is the most used auction format in Sourcing, where the bidders compete by lowering their prices.

2.2.2 Forward

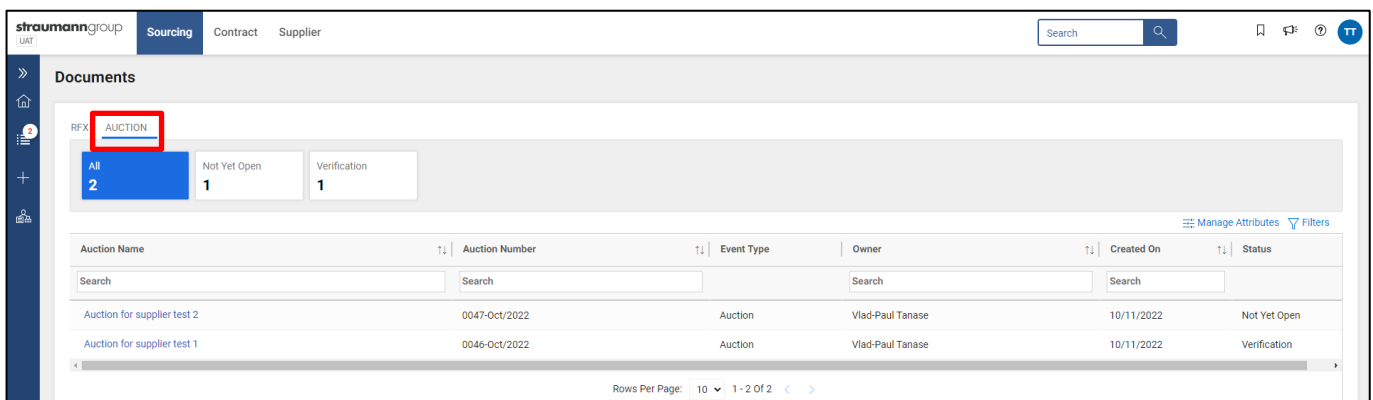

In the forward method, bidding starts with the lowest possible price and the bid value increases gradually. The winner of the auction event is the bidder having the highest bid.

Chapter 3: Viewing the Auction Event

Once the buyer organization has invited and has published the auction event, you get an invitation in the email. You can access the auction event by using the link provided in the email, as shown:

Alternatively, you can directly login to GEP SMART and access the event by clicking Sourcing on the header, then clicking Auction on the grid below, as follows:

An auction event has the following sections:

- Acknowledgement\(s\)
- Basic Details
- Guidelines
- Lots

■ Attachments

Note

On first access to the Auction page, you are directed to the NDA and/or the Acknowledgement tab, depending upon the configuration set by the buyer. Initially only this tab is active, and you are required to read through the NDA and/or Acknowledgement and accept it to gain access to the remaining tabs in the auction event.

You can view the time-related information across different sections in the Auction events in a 24-Hour format.

Note

This feature is governed by the 24-Hour Time Format setting. By default, it is disabled. Since the availability of this feature/enhancement is based on a configuration, please reach out to your Account Manager for more information.

3.1 Acknowledgement(s)

Once you follow the link provided in the email notification or after you click to open the event from the GEP SMART home page, the auction event page is displayed. Based on the configuration selected by the buyer, you may need to first accept the NDA/Guidelines set by the buyer organization.

The information in the Acknowledgement(s) section is displayed as follows:

Document Name	Document Status	Timestamp	Attachment(s)
NDA-1	Pending	-	0

Below the table, the 'BASIC DETAILS' section provides the following information:

- Auction Name: Auction for supplier test 6
- Event Description: -
- Auction Type: Regular
- Auction Method: Reverse
- Event Currency: USD
- Author Name: Vlad-Paul Tanase
- Product/Service: B - Manufacturing Equ...
- Managed Segment: 0001 - CH01 Zentralel...
- Region/Country: Global
- Published On: 10/11/2022 03:41 AM

At the bottom of the page, there are three buttons: 'CANCEL', 'REJECT', and 'ACCEPT'. A footer note states: 'Your acceptance indicates that you have read and agree to the terms and clauses set by Straumann'.

You need to read through the NDA and then accept the acknowledgement below. Click Accept or Reject as applicable.

Once you accept, you can go through the rest of the sections in the auction event.

3.2 Basic Details

The Basic Details tab displays the basic information regarding the auction event such as the auction type, name, description, category etc.

Chapter 4: Bidding in an Auction

The bidding activity in an auction event takes place in the Lots section. You can start bidding once the auction event is live.

For example, once an auction event for a regular auction is live, the Lot Bidding page is displayed as shown below:

Search Lots		LOT 1	Event Currency	LOT CLOSING IN	EXTENSIONS
			EUR	01:17:52:09	0

						PLACE BID

In an auction event, all the available lots are displayed on the left pane.

To switch between the available lots, you can click the required lot to open it.

4.1 Bidding in a Regular Auction

For an overview on regular auctions, see Regular Auction.

For a Regular auction, the timer is displayed at both the event level and the lot level, as shown below:

Search Lots		LOT 1	Event Currency	LOT CLOSING IN	EXTENSIONS
			EUR	01:17:52:09	0

The bid is auto-calculated and auto-submitted.

4.1.2 Reserve Price

This is an additional feature available only for Regular auctions. The buyer has the ability to set a reserve price for each lot, as shown below:

A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I
1	Items	Volume	Unit	Unit Start Price	Total Start Price	Decrement	Last Bid	* Price (Unit)	SubTotal

Σ					1,000.00			10.00	1,000.00

Depending on the configuration, the reserve price will be displayed to you and / or you will be notified if and when you meet the reserve price.

4.2 Bidding in a Dutch Auction

For an overview on Dutch auctions, see Dutch Auction.

For a Dutch auction (both single and range value), the timer is displayed at the lot level only. The timer is displayed for each step within each lot, during the auction event, as shown below:

4.3 Bidding in a Japanese Auction

For an overview on Japanese auctions, see Japanese Auction.

For a Japanese auction, the timer is displayed at the lot level only. The timer is displayed for each step within each lot, during the auction event, as shown below:

The screenshot shows the auction interface for Lot 2. At the top, a yellow banner states: "This is Japanese Auction. You have to accept bid at every step to continue your participation. Know More". Below this, the interface is divided into several sections:

- Search Lots: A search bar on the left.
- Lot 2 LIVE: A sidebar on the left showing the current lot is active.
- Step 1 Closing In 00:04:52: A red timer indicating the time left in the current step.
- LOT 2: The main header for the current lot.
- Event Currency: Displayed as EUR.
- Last Accepted Price (EUR): Displayed as 0.00.
- LINE DETAILS: A table with columns A, B, and C.

	A	B	C
1	Items	Volume	Unit Start Price
2	L2	100.00	150.00
- Unit: Displayed as "each".
- Buttons: "REJECT" and "ACCEPT" buttons are visible at the bottom right.
- BID DETAILS: A section at the bottom of the interface.

Note

The Step Closing in timer for the Japanese auction indicates the amount of time left in the current step.

To bid in a Japanese auction:

- 1) On the navigation pane on the left, click the required lot.
- 2) During the first step, if you agree with the bid amount specified, click Accept.
- 3) During the next step of the auction, if you agree with the new incremented/decremented bid amount, click Accept.
- 4) If at any point of time during the auction, you do not agree with the specified bid amount, either click Reject or wait till the timer runs out for the step. The auction event will end for you, as shown below:

4.4 Bidding in a Sealed Auction

For an overview on Sealed auctions, see Sealed Auction.

Similar to the Regular auction, for a Sealed auction, the timer is displayed both at the event level and at the lot level, as shown below:

The screenshot shows a web interface for a sealed auction. At the top, a yellow banner reads: "This is Sealed Auction and hence only one bid can be placed". Below this, the interface is divided into several sections:

- Search Lots: A search bar with the text "Search Lots".
- Lot 1 LIVE: A section for Lot 1, showing "Closing In 23:41:40".
- Lot 2 LIVE: A section for Lot 2, showing "Closing In 23:41:40".
- Event Currency: Displayed as "EUR".
- LOT CLOSING IN: Displayed as "23:41:40".
- LINE DETAILS: A table with columns A, B, C, D, and E. The table contains the following data:

2	L1	100.00	each	0.00	0.00
Σ				0.00	0.00
- Overall price (EUR): Displayed as "0.00" with a refresh icon.
- PLACE BID: A blue button to submit a bid.
- BID DETAILS: A section for bid details, currently empty.

To bid in a sealed auction:

- 1) On the navigation pane on the left, click the required lot.
- 2) Specify a bid amount under the Price column and click Place Bid.

4.5 Using Chat

During an auction event, you have the ability to chat with the buyer, if required. This chat functionality provides a one-to-one communication between you and the buyer.

Hovering over the chat icon will indicate if the buyer is online or not, as shown below:

To use the chat functionality:

- 1) Click the Chat icon  on the header.
- 2) The chat window is displayed as follows:

4.6 Live Auction Updates

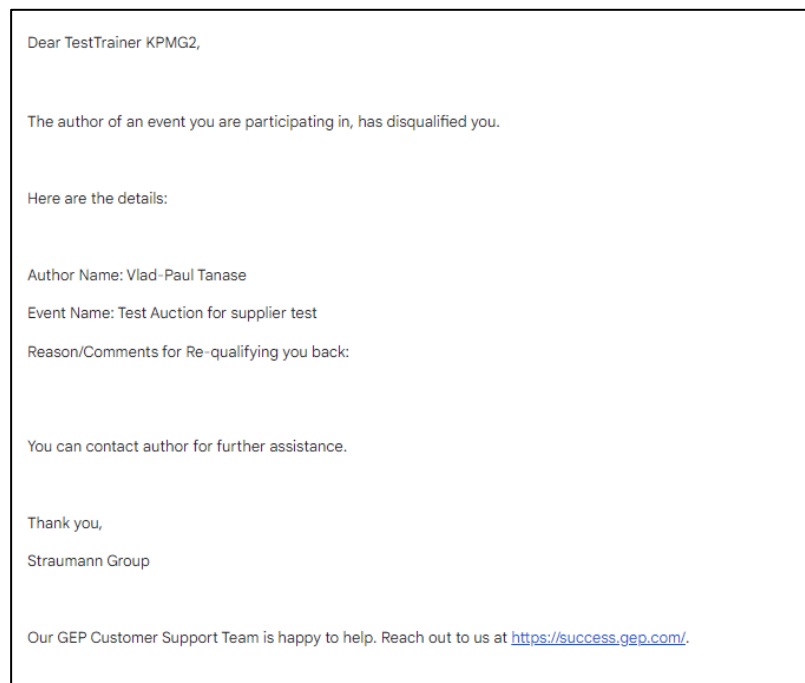

Following are the activities that can occur during the time the auction event is live.

4.6.1 Disqualifications

The buyer has the ability to disqualify you from a lot, in the event. If the buyer decides to disqualify you, an information pop-up is displayed as follows:

Additionally, you also receive an email notification containing the reason for disqualification specified by the supplier, as shown below:

Once you are disqualified from a lot, you cannot take part in the bidding anymore for that lot and the following message is displayed on that lot page:

Thank you,

Straumann Group

Our GEP Customer Support Team is happy to help. Reach out to us at <https://success.gep.com/>.

4.6.3 Pausing and Resuming of an Event

When an auction event is paused by the buyer, the timer freezes at the value at which the buyer decided to pause. Also, you get a notification email as shown below:

Dear TestTrainer3

Event Test Auction for supplier test is paused for some time. You will be informed once event is resumed.

Thank you,
 Straumann Group

Our GEP Customer Support Team is happy to help. Reach out to us at <https://success.gep.com/>.

Once the buyer resumes the auction, the timer will continue to count down. You will also get an email notification as shown below:

Event Test Auction for supplier test is resumed and will now be closing on 10/11/2022 08:25 AM at 10/11/2022 08:25 AM Eastern Standard Time.

4.6.4 Timer Extensions

The buyer has the ability to extend the timer at the lot level or at the event level, as per his requirement. If the buyer extends the timer, you get a notification as shown below:

i INFORMATION!

Chapter 5: Getting Awarded

After the auction event is complete, if the buyer decides to award you the auction, you receive an email notification as shown below:

Dear TestTrainer KPMG2,

Review of the bid responses is complete for the event Auction for supplier test. You have been selected to supply the items for the same.

You can use the following link to view details of this event and take the required action: https://smartuateu.gcp.com/auction/supplier?oloc=243&auc_dd=ZGM9MTI3NCZicGM9NzAwMjIxNjU1#/auc/supplier/summary

The purchase and supply of the items shall be governed by Standard Terms and Conditions, which were included in the event documentation.

Please acknowledge your acceptance of this award letter with Terms and Condition and send confirmation email within one week.

Thank you,
Straumann Group

Also, if the buyer decides to inform you in case you are not awarded the auction, you will receive an email notification as shown below:

Dear Sylvester,

Luminous org would like to sincerely thank you for your interest and participation in the Dutch Auction (Range) - Surplus Goods event. We have completed a detailed analysis of the responses submitted by all participating suppliers for the event.

Although we regret to inform you that Luminous org has decided at this time, to award their business for following Lots to an alternate supplier.

- LEDs and Batteries

The team was however impressed with your professionalism and preparedness, and would like to acknowledge the time and effort that you put in to this event. Luminous Org would like to work with you in future and build a mutually beneficial relationship. Thank you again.

Regards,
Luminous org
